UR Board To Take Plan Before City

McCullin Says Optimism High For Downtown

Members of the Urban Renewal Board will meet with the Cameron City Council 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, October 14, for what the urban renewal chairman says should be an "optimistic meeting."

He will present the final proposal for the downtown renewal to Councilmen for the first time.

A. W. McCullin said the Urban Renewal board met Tuesday afternoon with James Green, project engineer with Bernard Johnson, of Houston, and asked for a final drawing of two area alternatives for the Courthouse and downtown facing block to its west, long designated for removal for a mall-parking area.

McCullin said the project would have an outside cost of about $530,000, and would include:

—Rearrangement of some utility poles and lines and ordering of others in the 24-block area.

—Construction of new sidewalks and curbs in several areas of the downtown urban renewal program.

—Leveling and construction of new streets throughout much of the 24-block area.

—Efforts at beautification of the downtown area, including the mall-parking area.

—Purchase of other buildings considered by engineers irreparable in the 24-block area and removal.

He did not specify costs for individual phases of the program, but was highly optimistic at achieving a major improvement throughout the downtown area.

He said the meeting with Council had been arranged after a conference with Mayor E. A. Perrin earlier this week.

McCullin's optimism was high because, he said, "this program can do much of what we hoped, though not all of it" and "it can be done for less than what it appeared."

Board member James D. Camp is in charge of a committee to speak to organizations in Cameron during October on the final shape of the downtown project.

The urban board chairman indicated there were some pleasant surprises in store for both the City and Cameron residents, concerning the project.

And he projected the possibility of carrying forward in another project with what remains from the earlier, higher estimates of the current downtown project.

Members of the urban board include: Albert Hajovsky, Bill Burns, Porter Young, Camp, Miss Mildred Thornton and McCullin.

CONNALLY CADETS MARCH IN...

Yoemen Seeking 1st Win

By Tony Castro

After suffering three straight losses, coach Hal Stanislaw's forces will try to regroup this week before the district campaign gets underway.

Cameron suffered a 13-0 defeat last week at Rosebud. The Yoemen will host the Connally Cadets of Waco at 8 p.m. at Yoe Field.

Connally itself will be trying to rebound after a 49-3 thrashing at the hands of the Belton Tigers.

Connally comes into the game with a 1-2 record. The latest loss was a massacre by Belton to spoil the Cadets' homecoming. Belton, one of the top contenders in district 13AAA trooped out to a 19-3 half time lead and coasted in blanking Connally on the scoreboard the rest of the way.

Quarterback Robert Brashear was injured in Tuesday's practice but will start Friday night. Dale Schigut is not expected to start because of a sinus condition.

The Yoemen, meanwhile appear to be going through a rerun of last season when they took a series of pre-district beatings only to come back and win their fourth straight district championship.

And while Stanislaw wouldn't mind a repeat of last year's final outcome, he would just as quickly welcome a victory or two before district play begins.

ONCE FAVORED

Cameron was favored last week again over its traditional rival Rosebud, but a fumble and pass interception proved too costly for the Yoemen.

The Black Panthers capitalized on two breaks for touchdowns the first and second periods and that was enough.

Things started going bad for the Yoemen in the opening kickoff. Fullback John Black received the kickoff, started up through the traffic and fumbled. Rosebud's Thomas Coulter recovered, and the Panthers were in good shape on the Cameron 14 yard line.

It took Rosebud two plays to cover the distance. Fullback Jackie Turner picked up 2 yards, and halfback James Duffie got the other dozen in one quick spurt around right end.

Raymond Puente's conversion gave Rosebud the 7-0 lead with practically all of the game to go.

DEFENSIVE GAME

The defensive unit for both teams grabbed the spotlight for the rest of the game with Duffie turning in another decisive play in the third quarter.

With Cameron going to the air on the passing of soph Robert Brashear, a Yoeman toss went astray with Duffie intercepting and running it back 55 yards for a TD.

The Black Cats' defense was equally as strong, giving up only 19 yards on the ground and forcing Cameron to the passing lanes. The Yoemen hit on 9 of 21 passing attempts for 82 yards.

Rosebud was never able to generate its offensive as the Cameron defense, sparked by Ronnie Richardson and Norman Trubee, yielded only three first downs.

OFFENSE:

DEFENSE:

Donors Needed For Centex Bloodmobile

Central Texas Bloodmobile Unit will make its final visit for the year in Cameron Wednesday, October 9.

The local unit will be at Methodist Fellowship Hall from 12 noon until 6 p.m. for North Milam County donors.

Sister Aloysius, chairman of the blood program in Cameron, said a special plea for donors was being made because of a national blood supply shortage.

United Fund Opens Drive For $8,400 At Kick-Off Dinner

A kick-off dinner at 7 p.m. October 15 will open the Cameron United Fund drive in the business area.

The dinner for United Fund workers will be at Cameron Country Club, according to Forrest Sapp, CUF chairman. Bernay Dusek is in charge of the dinner.

Goal for the drive is $8,400 to finance six county groups: Katacomb Teen Center, USO, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, and Red Cross.

Sapp will head the business district drive and Dana Kestenbaum will be chairman of the house to house campaign which begins October 22.

Announcing the drive, Sapp said, "The past two years have been very successful for United Fund and we have appreciated the cooperation of people in this effort. Knowing they have been called on for other things this year, we hope they will continue to give United Fund their support through this drive."

Hospital Drive

The St. Edward Hospital development fund neared $79,000 Wednesday as directors were scheduled to meet at drive headquarters in downtown Cameron.

The total was up about $6,500 in the past week, according to Robert Ellett, chairman of the development drive.

109

By F. M. L.

As editors do, 109 fanned through some back copies, finding an editorial of The Herald of Sept. 21, 1964. It addressed the problem of small-town problems, which, four years since, Cameron has met with competence reaching for excellence.

It is good to know this Texas town met the problem head on and solved most of the elements within it. 109 is proud to have written that 1964 editorial and many others like it before and since and prouder that Cameron "took it from here."

109-109-109

TAKE IT FROM HERE....

National focus continues on the small-town problem of population decline into metropolitan growth.

A network TV show last week sighted on "Cimarron" but spoke about all small towns 10,000 or less across this nation's expanse.

Scope of the problem includes the fact that major cities are capitalizing on nearby, established communities' unwillingness or inability to realize their own problems.

For example, metropolitan Dallas is now a four-county area, encompassing dozens of established towns uunder 10,000. They have become a nationally recognized area of development, losing gradually their identity to the larger entity.

Recent rulings by the U.S. Supreme Court heighten the small town's problem because selection of state senators and representatives comes under the near total aegis of emphasis on numbers, not territory.

People, an established trade territory make a community. The elemental fact collides with established belief either that small-town population decline is inevitable or that things are better now than in a more complicated environment, which would concede nothing to big-city cousins.

With all their problems, metropolitan areas have the stimulus of jobs, greater capacity for the exciting than small towns. Less complicated, small-town life suffers from this competition while much of its allure is quashed by the greater allure of growth and promotion much a part of metropolitan boom.

To flourish, it is equally elemental that small towns must compete. But how? In Cameron's case alone, advantages of metropolitan centers bombard us in eight daily newspapers and five TV stations.

Too much competition? We would think not. Communities which accept this challenge, Caldwell to our east for good example, and Cameron in confident current strides, can and will continue growth.

Natural attrition of time alone poses for small towns a new "minimum daily requirement" not only to survive, but once again to flourish.

This requirement is acceptance of these dramatic, historic changes for what they are and for what must be done to meet them.

This means central planning through central groups such as an active city planning board and an

Seven Killed In 2-Car Collision

A shattering auto crash at US 77 and FM 908 a mile south of Rockdale early Sunday morning took the lives of seven people and injured two, one critically.

Larry Joe Mitchell, 27, of Fort Worth, only person not seriously injured in the accident, was charged with negligent homicide. He was released on $2,500 bond.

Highway Patrolman Milton Wright said the weekend accident brought the death toll on Milam County highways to 14 for 1968. He said six of the previous fatal accidents in the county this year involved intoxicated drivers or drivers who were drinking at the time of the accidents.

Wright said the accident Sunday occurred at 4:10 a.m. He said Mitchell was traveling east on FM 908 in a 1964 Ford. His car collided with a 1967 Volkswagen driven by Jefferson Davis, 60, of Eagle Lake who was driving north on US 77.

The Mitchell car skidded sideways into an embankment after the impact, knocking over a stop sign. The Volkswagen spun around and across the highway, bursting into flames.

Mrs. Buddy Nelson, who lives nearby, helped pull several bodies away from the burning car and alerted the Rockdale Fire Department.

Both passengers in the Mitchell car were killed. Davis and four of the five passengers in his car were killed.

Wright identified the dead as:

Harry James Green, 35, of Dallas, and William Jackson, Jr., 36, of Ledbetter, passengers in the Mitchell car;

Jefferson Davis, 60, of Eagle Lake, driver of the Volkswagen His wife, Lovella Mae Davis of Eagle Lake. Annette Denby, 10, of Eagle Lake; Sheranda Mathews, 5, of Eagle Lake and Rosie Hemphill, 37, of Eagle Lake.

Sherain Davis, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Davis, is in critical condition at Scott and White Hospital, Temple.

Wright said Mrs. Davis was taken to Richards Hospital, Rockdale, and then transferred to Scott and White, where she lived only a short time.

Mitchell was treated at Richards Hospital for facial cuts and bruises and released about 11:30 a.m.

Five Milam County residents were injured in two other accidents.

Brenda Watkins Slaughter, 21, Erma Marie Slaughter, 2, and Karen McDaniel, 18, all of Thorndale, were injured in a one car accident at 3 p.m. Sunday two miles north of Thorndale on FM 486. All three were hospitalized in Taylor.

Another one-car accident in Cameron injured Fred Phillips and Bill Haley, both of Buckholts. Highway Patrolman Leroy Broadus said the Phillips car went into a ditch near the National Guard Armory about 11:20 p.m. Monday.

Amendment No. 8 Would Streamline State Contracts

AMENDMENT NO. 8-HJR No. 49

(Deleting certain constitutional provisions relating to the purchase of fuel by the state and the refurbishing under contract of rooms and halls used by the legislature and eliminating the requirement that the governor, the secretary of state, and the comptroller approve certain contracts of purchase.)

This proposed amendment to Section 21 of Article XVI, relating to state purchasing contracts and their approval, makes four basic provisions:

(1) It deletes "fuel used in the Legislative and other departments of government, except the Judicial Department..." from the contract purchase requirement.

(2) It deletes "repairing and furnishing the halls and rooms used for meetings of the Legislature and its committees..." from present contract requirements.

(3) It relieves the governor, the secretary of state, and the comptroller from the tedium of approval of all such contracts.

(4) It changes the reference to "Deaf and Dumb Asylum" to "Texas School for the Deaf" to conform with the change in name of this institution made by the legislature in 1949.

Other provisions relating to contract for stationery and printing and safeguarding the state from participation by a member or officer of any department in such contract, remain unchanged.

BACKGROUND

Section 21, Article XVI, as now contained in the Constitution, has never been amended. It was placed in the Constitution of 1876 in answer to practices of the reconstruction government, which granted contracts for fuel and printing at exorbitant prices as special favors to friends or relatives of those wielding governmental powers. Beginning in 1919 with the creation of the Board of Control as the state purchasing agent, this agency in effect, has exercised the function of calling for and awarding all state contracts. Compliance with the constitutional provision requiring approval of the governor, the secretary of state, and the comptroller has generally been perfunctory, although the Board of Control does give notice to the three officers when bids on printing or fuel are to be opened.

The proposed amendment merely streamlines the existing Section 21, Article XVI, by doing away with unused, excess verbiage.

ARGUMENTS

FOR:

1. The governor, secretary of state, and comptroller, all busy officials, should not be burdened with the strictly storekeeping function of approving purchasing contracts. Approval of contracts by these officials has, in actual practice, become a mere formality and something of a nuisance. Such "approval" is performed by ministerial subordinates of these officials, so that the requirement has in reality become so much "red tape."

2. Contract purchase requirements for fuel for the legislative and other departments of government were also a holdover from the reconstruction period, and since the capitol complex has its own central power plant today, this requirement in the Constitution is outdated. Removing the requirement by adoption of the proposed amendment would simply serve as a clean-up measure for the Constitution.

AGAINST:

1. Even though action of the governor, secretary of state, and comptroller may be perfunctory in passing on purchasing contracts awarded by the State of Texas, the requirement that these officials act in this capacity serves as a check on those actually performing the service. Purchasing agents and officials unconsciously exert more caution under the knowledge that their actions are subject to review by high state officials.

2. Although the present needs for fuel by legislative and othe departments of government can be met without fear of graft and corruption, circumstances could change and, certainly, this provision of Section 21, Article XVI, as originally included in the Constitution of 1876, is not harmful.

Eagles Rip Bees In 34-0 Shutout

Rogers' Eagles continue to fly high after their third winning game Friday night. The Academy Bumble Bees fell to the Eagles 34-0.

Rogers piled up scores while the Bees' defense was stopped during the first half. The second half saw their only sustained drive shut out by an interception deep in Eagle territory.

Mike Schneider scored for the Eagles in the first quarter. Eugene Brenek added another in the second, and two good PATs gave Rogers a 14-0 lead at halftime.

Brenek again ran up the total in the third quarter, with a 51 yard run around end. Wayne Psencik scored another touchdown with 3:44 left in the third. Both PATs were good.

Field goals by Don Mayfield and Billy Craft ended the Eagles' scoring for the night, with the final tally at 34-0.

Drill Stem Break Delays Wildcat Near Thorndale

Milam County's new wildcat, the No. 1 C. P. McWilliams, being drilled by a Houston operator, R. W. Cumley, about nine miles southeast of Thorndale, encountered trouble early this week when a drill stem broke off in the hole and could not be recovered.

The drilling crew, at last report, was preparing to plug back up the hole and try to whipstock out and drill a sidetracked hole around the junk.

The wildcat was drilling around 4,000 feet when the trouble developed. It is permitted to 6,000 feet and has the Edwards Lime as its objective.

Some rumors last week were to the effect that the McWilliams was attracting attention from the oil fraternity and several oilmen from Houston and San Antonio had gone out to the drillsite. Whether the test had any shows of oil or gas was not reported.

The wildcat was scheduled early in September and was due to spud in about a week, but apparently was delayed. Location is on a 409-acre lease in James Hannum Survey and in the southwest corner of Milam near the Lee and Williamson County lines. Nearest production is 15 miles to the northeast in the Milbur Field which lies along the Milam-Burleson County line.

Badgers Down Trinidad 39-18

The Buckholts Badgers racked up their third win Friday night, defeating Trinidad 39-18 in a nondistrict bout.

Alan Barkemeyer tossed a 12-yard pass to Terry McNeil in the first quarter for Buckholts' first touchdown. The PAT failed.

Trinidad evened the score with a 22-yard pass from Everett Berry to Roy Stanfield. Their point after attempt was no good.

First quarter scoring closed out with another Badger score by tailback Arthur Layton.

Buckholts had a 20-6 lead in the second quarter after Norman Haisler caught Barkemeyer's pass and a toss from Layton to McNeil made the two points after.

Six more were added to the score board with Haisler passing. The final six came from another Barkemeyer to Haisler toss and a successful PAT.

Land Retirement Payments Not Same As Welfare, Says Poage

Cong. W. R. Poage defended the Farm Program in his weekly newsletter, reporting passage of a one-year extension of the existing program.

The House of Representatives passed the extension with a 17-vote majority. Cong. Poage said many members don't understand the importance of agricultural programs.

"They feel that we have been paying large sums to big farmers who didn't need the money," he said. "We do not make land retirement payments as we make welfare payments simply to add to the income of the individual who gets the money. We make these payments to bring about a balance between supply and demand which will enable all farmers to get more for their products," he continued.

Abandonment of the present farm programs would eventually lead to complete corporate farming which would mean a few large corporations producing all the food and controlling the price, or some kind of farmer cooperatives fixing prices and withholding production when their terms are not met Poage noted.

FOOD STAMP BILL

"We also passed a very material extension of the Food Stamp Bill," he stated, adding 'Without passage of this bill there would have been no hope for a farm bill.

'The two are tied together and I am hopeful that the Food Stamp Program may provide for a more efficient and widespread distribution of agricultural commodities to the benefit of producers; of distributors (grocers) and recipients of the commodities."

Smith Says Texas Is Running Out Of Water; Problem Critical

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith is currently stressing that the State is "running out of water" and could face "a slow economic death at the point reached in the year 2000."

Lt. Gov. Smith discussed water problems and the Mississippi Water Import Plan in a recent speech to businessmen of the Dallas Restaurant Association, and to civic club members in the West Texas town of Petersburg.

Excerpts from his speeches included:

"Let us turn our thoughts to a little-known, and less - discussed problem facing our state. It is a problem that many people have, for some reason or other, dismissed from their minds. But, it is probably the most economically - dangerous problem our state will face in the years before the turn of the next century.

"It is simply this: We are running out of water.

"Texas faces the sobering fact that by the year 2000 all available water in the state will be in use. There will be no surplus water for economic expansion. There will be no remaining sources within the state which can be developed.

"This picture is made all the more economically frightening because 32 years is a very short period of time in which to locate and develop a major water source."

The Democratic nominee for governor then discussed the Mississippi Water Import Plan, which he said appears to have more merit than other possibilities studied by the state.

Monroe To Play Houston Course As Golf Guest

Danny Monroe of Cameron will join a Robert E. Lee High School, San Antonio, golf team when it meets a University of Houston freshman team in a tournament there this weekend.

Danny, a Yoe High School senior, will participate as a guest player and not as a member of the San Antonio high school team. The match will be held Friday, October 4 in Houston.

He received an invitation to join the San Antonio team from Robert E. Lee High's coach, Tom Moseley, when he was in San Antonio last month competing in a tournament there on the Olmos Basin Golf Course. Danny finished in the first flight in the event.

This was the second time he has played in the San Antonio tournament. Last year he finished in the third flight. It will be the second time, also, that he will join the Lee High team in a match with the U of H team at the invitation of Coach Moseley.

Danny is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dana Monroe of Cameron and has been attracting attention as an amateur golfer. Among other events he competed in the State Amateur in Conroe in June. He plans to attend the University of Houston following his graduation from Yoe High School next year.

active civic industrial and improvements group.

It may be anathema to centralize further, beyond the popular conception of federal overcentralization. But it also is necessary.

Growing small towns are highly organized. National press commentary stimulates them. They study its message.

There is considerable future for small communities who, by chance of geography, are near cities, but far enough to retain local identity. Such is the case of Cameron; such is the case of thousands of small communities trapped by inertia and a natural fear "to tread."

What is more damaging to civic morale than TIME's splash about Rosebud a year ago? Mentioned again in last week's TV network small-town story, Rosebud never saw that TV writer, nor he Texas; but he apparently read TIME.

What can be more effective than positive steps over such commentary and apparent technological "sweep of history." We learn daily it is possible to turn the present truths into falsehood by well-planned, plain civic hard work.

Are not millions, now suburbanites, seeking some space for a lawn and a single roof over their heads? Are not millions commuting daily to city jobs from small towns? Are not industries moving to small towns for their obvious employee advantages?

Are not these small towns, like Cameron, within this framework of challenge and response, in a good position to "take it from here?"

Spray Coating No Answer To Reduce Electricity Cost

Texas Power & Light today warned customers of individuals who claim they can reduce the cost of electricity by applying a spray coating on electric wiring.

The Company said that a Dublin woman recently paid a salesman over $200 to inspect and spray-coat the electrical wiring in the attic of her home. The salesman allegedly told the woman he represented Texas Light Company, Austin, Texas.

In order to avoid any confusion as a result of similar names, TP&L stressed that the salesman does not represent Texas Power & Light Company.

The Company further stated that customers would be less likely to suffer financial loss if they would check with the local TP&L office before signing contracts rekarding the repair, replacement or inspection of electrical wiring in their homes by persons they do not know, or persons who offer unsolicited electrical service.

Suffragettes Win—
Disaster Seen In Women's Vote

Forty years ago the U.S. was groaning under the same thundering oratory and rolling bandwagons that comprise a presidential election campaign, with one hair-raising difference—women were about to cast their votes for the first time in a nationwide scale.

Opponents of a woman suffrage had charged that giving women the right to vote might desex them, or might turn politics into a morality play. History has proved them wrong on both counts.

But 1920 wasn't the first time women had voted, reports World Book Encyclopedia.

Congress had left the decision to the states, and New Jersey at first permitted its women to vote. But men had second thoughts and the state took back the privilege in 1807.

As women joined the labor force in the new factories, and began to help men fight for temperance and the abolition of slavery, they gained a forum to air their pet peeves.

A meeting at Seneca Falls, N. Y. which has been called the first woman suffrage convention in the U.S., stirred public discussion in 1848.

Two years later reformers, male and female, from the entire country assembled at Worcetser, Mass., as the Woman's Rights Convention.

The crusade was in full swing when the adoption of the Fifteenth Amendment divided the forces of reform.

The radicals, led by Susan B. Anthony and Elizabeth Cady Stanton, opposed the amendment because it gave the vote to Negro men but not to women. They organized the National Woman Suffrage Association.

A more moderate group founded the American Woman Suffrage Association and concentrated on persuading the states rather than the federal government to grant voting rights to women.

In 1872 the determined Miss Anthony was arrested for voting and her trial focused wide attention on the feminist fight.

Several states granted woman suffrage in the 1890s and others began to take the idea more seriously. At the time, the suffragists reunited in the National American Woman Suffrage Association and prepared for the big push.

Their chance came with World War 1 and the expanding role of women.

Militant womanhood descended on Washington, D.C. They paraded through the capital, picketed the White House and carried on hunger strikes in jail.

In 1917 a woman suffrage amendment to the Constitution was submitted to the House of Representatives. The pressure was stepped up and in 1918 Woodrow Wilson personally went before a joint session of Congress to urge passage.

Congress took action and the last of the necessary three-fourths of the states approved the Nineteenth Amendment in August, 1920, just in time for the presidential election.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Duncan and children of Granger visited in the home of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Svetlik.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wall visited in the home of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Tate and Jimmy of Cameron this past week.

The 1968 election was held at a county convention September 25 at the Milam County ASCS Office. Elections were farmers chosen as convention delegates at recent ASC community committee elections in the county.

The ASC county and community farmer - committees are in charge of local administration of such national farm programs as the Agricultural Conservation, Cropland Adjustment, feed grain, wheat, upland cotton diversion, acreage allotments and marketing quotas, national wool, commodity price-support loans, and storage facility loans.

4-H CLUB ACTIVITIES

By Fred Schuetze

The week of October 6 through 12 has been designated National 4-H Club Week.

On Thursday, September 26, five 4-H'ers, including Peggy Stephens and Betty Margaret Orr, Rockdale Club; Melvin Hollas and Clyde Jistel, County Wide Club; and Joseph Jistel, St. Anthony Club, worked with Christine Laws, Milam County HD Agent and Fred Schuetze, assistant county agent in making a radio tape to be played during next week. The tape gives personal views on 4-H by youth who are now active in the Milam Co. 4-H program. The statements are aimed at achieving a better understanding of 4-H work in the county.

MR. & MISS 4-H Contest

At the youth subcommittee meeting held Sept. 23, it was decided by the 4-H officers, Council members and adult leaders present, that a Mr. and Miss 4-H contest be held in Milam County.

Each club will select a boy and a girl who meet these qualifications: 1. must be 12 years of age, 2. must have completed a complete record book the year before the election and 3. must have at least one year in 4-H as an active member.

The two selected from each club will start collecting votes which will cost a penny each. At the end of the contest the boy and girl with the most pennies will be Mr. and Miss 4-H'er of Milam County. Complete information on the contest will be given at the October 4-H meetings.

4-H AWARDS BANQUET

The county 4-H Awards Banquet has been set for November 23. Starting October 3 pictures will be run in county newspapers of the 4-H'ers who completed a record book this year and won some type of award.

STOCK SHOW TIME

Jerry Mueck, local 4-H'er from St. Anthony Club will compete in the open breeding Swine Show at the Heart of Texas Fair in Waco October 1-6.

The 4-H'ers with both fat steer projects and lamb projects have been working very hard during the last two months. At this time, 4-H'ers who wish to compete at the major livestock shows, have to start walking, and grooming their animals if they are to be in top condition when show time comes.

Tips From Tippit

Sports car drivers often gear down to slow down, instead of using their brakes. This is a good idea when going down long hills, but in heavy traffic it can be dangerous because it does not turn on brake lights to warn following drivers.

Be aware of this practice when following sports cars. Prepare to brake at the first sign of slowing down in a sports car ahead. You may prevent a rear-end collision.

WORSHIP IN CHURCH
and get a spiritual lift for the whole week

Just who among us can fathom the miracle of light? The ministries of the sun are many. A single ray can be concentrated to explosive intensity. The sun gives off a burning heat we could not do without. Light, warmth, growth, health and healing are daily ministries of the sun.

The earth becomes sour and barren without it. In this same manner man limits his strength and usefulness when he turns away from God.

Let us wait and pray in the sanctuary of His church, for in such waiting and worship, God promises to bless man's soul as does the sunlight bless the earth. We should strive to capture the rays from God like the prisom does the sunlight, and direct it to good and wholesome uses. Then, they who wait upon the Lord may run and not grow weary. They may walk and not faint (Isaiah 40:31).

LEMONS

WE DID IT AGAIN THIS YEAR -- LIKE LAST YEAR WE MADE SOME BAD MISTAKES IN OUR BUYING AND WE HAVE A FEW LEMONS ON OUR HANDS. THIS IS NOT BAD OR DAMAGED MERCHANDISE - - - THE REASON WE CALL IT A LEMON IS BECAUSE IT TURNED SOUR BY NOT SELLING AS FAST AS OUR BUYER THOUGHT IT WOULD -- WE'VE MARKED THE PRICE WAY DOWN -- IF YOU SEE SOMETHING YOU LIKE, COME BUY IT -- THIS IS A GREAT CHANCE TO GET A REAL BARGAIN -- WHO KNOWS? THIS MAY BE JUST WHAT YOU HAVE BEEN LOOKING FOR ALL YEAR AND DIDN'T KNOW WE HAD IT.

Venezuelan Tells Farm Situation

By J. D. Moore

The following article is a report on farm conditions in Venezuela as reported by Bill Stroman, former Lampasas 4-H Club member.

The International Farm Youth-Exchange conducted by the National 4-H Club Foundation in behalf of the Cooperative Extension Service, is a rural educational program operating between the United States and about 35 countries annually. The US—Venezuelan exchange is in cooperation with the Consejo de Bienestar Rural. The Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation has arranged for Texas friends of 4-H to finance W. J. Stroman's exchange. Sponsors are John I. Bowling of Hale Center, and D. K. Caldwell of Tyler.

Venezuela, a nation with a tremendous agricultural potential, has seen many years of civil turmoil and malaria epidemics, putting the nation each time closer to starvation. Cattle numbers declined from 12 million in 1860 to 4 million in 1940. Agriculture was abandoned because the farmers and ranchers left their property to go to cities and mountains where military protection was offered and malaria not present. After civil order was established and maloria eradicated, it was necessary that an official agency be formed to help people re-develop agricultural operations. The Banco Agricola y Pecuario (BAP), a government bank, was chartered to provide financial and technical assistance in re-establishing the agricultural sector of the nation. This year the BAP celebrates its 40th anniversary.

The BAP has three departments —administration, loan, and agricultural development. The administration department is responsible for management of the bank. The loan department, the bank's primary responsibility, is authorized by the government to make secured loans up to 100,000 Bolivars or $22,500 to individuals. These guaranteed loans are available for development of farms, such as for irrigation wells, pumps, ditches, construction of fences and roads, houses and barns.

The agricultural development department of the BAP is dedicated to finding better agricultural development markets in Venezuela and abroad. It has been instrumental in helping establish many cooperatives for selling cotton, sugar cane, corn and other crops.

The BAP has done a fine job of helping the farmers move out of the cities, back to the farms, but now there exists a great demand for loans for agricultural production. Agricultural machinery dealers can qualify for larger loans because they are incorporated, but once they have used their credit to its limit financing sales to farmers, it is difficult to obtain more.

Tractors are very expensive because all must be imported. In the last three years, prices of farm machinery has nearly doubled. A 98 HP diesel tractor made in the United States costs about $15,000. A farmer must have $5,000 cash down payment, and he is given 2 years to pay the balance. Ranchers and dairymen are affected equally in that there is a scarcity of breeding stock in the country, and loans are insufficient to purchase imported cattle.

As this is an election year, the second since Venezuela has been ruled as a democracy, most ranchers and farmers are expecting changes from the BAP, and a loosening of credit for production purposes would boost agricultural production greatly.

New Projects Make Bow In 4-H Grain Marketing Program

The national 4-H Grain Marketing program has opened up a whole new area of participation for 4-H Club members. It also has been expanded to include this and 32 other states, reports the Cooperative Extension Service, instead of the 12 states previously enrolled. The Chicago Board of Trade sponsors the program.

In addition to learning the best way to grow, harvest and market quality crops, which pretty much limited the projects to farm boys and girls, the program now encourages members to explore other phases.

The new projects need not necessarily be carried out in a farm situation. Recommended is a study of commodity markets. Information is available from the Extension Service, Chicago Board of Trade, radio, television, newspapers, magazines, schools and libraries.

More research projects that can be done by any youngster include transportation and distribution of grains; wholesaling and retailing of foods; business management; careers in the industries.

Finally, club members can look forward to becoming a state delegate to the 1969 4-H Grain Marketing Conference to be held in Chicago January 29-31 at the Chicago Board of Trade. The trip is the top state award. Competition in the county will earn a grain marketing medal for four outstanding members.

Projects will be judged by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Continuity And Discipline . . . .

Significant in Cameron's growth pattern in the past three years is the growth of Cameron's general fund budget, which has gained almost 40 percent in three years.

This year it topped $300,000 for the first time, not including another $128,000 separately budgeted for water, sewer and swimming pool ledgers.

The 1966-67 budget for the general fund was about $197,000, then went to $256,000 in the 1967-68 and onto the $300,000 mark.

This growth far exceeds any inflationary influence, though its effect cannot be overlooked. But a town with an approximately $430,000 gross income is on its way to being a city.

Properly handled, this kind of income makes possible all the things which are now in development: waterline extensions, airport, streets, new waterlines where needed, additional drainage service, master plan funds, et al.

The 1 percent sales tax serves Cameron well as it does so many other Texas cities sorely in need of additional revenue for local problems. And it is fortunate Cameron opted in that direction before the additional 1 percent state sales tax went into effect.

Cameron's carry over in the general fund this new budget year is also up, showing the City Council is accomplishing much within income. That figure was $63,291, perhaps double of a few years ago, before a city sales tax was available.

These are all significant. The City has worked diligently at bringing Cameron into modern fiscal growth at a time when demand for services is great and must be met.

It is another sign that Cameron realizes its potential and meets responsibility with continuity and discipline.

CIF, Inc. For Answers . . .

Much can be said for the vitality of Cameron Industrial Foundation during the year past.

The record is two industries opened and the possibility of a third.

It started with a labor survey for the first, Sunny Isle's affiliate, Cam-Tex, Inc., which attracted more than 1,700 ladies to inquire about the possility of work, if the plant came to Cameron.

It did.

Cameron Industrial Foundation, then, in effect, created a list of prospective employees of more than 1,700 women. It is also a list approaching that same number of households. And such information is the key to attracting other new industry such as Magna-Craft, Inc., now operating in Cameron.

Cities of much greater size are hard put to answer the needs for incoming industry for specific types of workers and specific talents. Cameron Industrial Foundation can provide this information, in the vernacular, "in spades."

No other agency in a community could do this job. And where would Cameron be without its own CIF, Inc., its reservoir of information and its capable leadership?

The alternative can be found in communities this size and smaller throughout that farm belt north through the midwest. Those towns, by the hundreds, still ask questions. Some are asking Cameron how it's done.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editar:

According to an article I read in a newspaper last night a lot of people are wondering why we can't have another big debate on television between the Presidential candidates, and the answer was, Congress would have to pass a special law allowing it.

As I understand it, if the television networks give time to the major candidates, they have to give equal time to all the minor candidates, like the Greenbacks, the Prohibitionists, and others nobody ever heard of, probably including Harold Stassen. This obviously would take up all the time on television for nights on end.

Of course I suppose if the major candidates really wanted to debate they could haul off and buy a couple of hours of time some night on their own and have at it.

However, there's a way to get around the law.

Instead of the candidates, let their speech writers do the debating. There's nothing in the law that says you have to give equal time to all speech writers, and the minor candidates don't have any anyway.

After all, when a candidate makes a ringing statement forthrightly dodging an issue, everybody knows it was written up in advance by a bunch of hired writers. Let those fellows debate and let's get at the source of what the candidates really think.

Actually of course the equal-time law isn't being enforced.

For example, the same paper I was reading last night reported that 90 percent of the people in this country now live on 1 percent of the land, which suits me fine, but what it failed to point out is that of that 90 percent, about 2 percent get all the television publicity. For instance, I don't know how many million college students there are, but I doubt if more than 2 percent of them have been on television, at least outside of a football stadium, certainly not wrecking the president's office.

This is clearly against the law.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

FDA Rules On Diet Food Labels

New regulations on special diet foods have been established by the Food and Drug Administration. They are aimed at providing the consumer with more facts about the food he buys for weight control and for other special diet needs, reports Sally Springer, Extension nutritionist.

Foods for special dietary use are intended to fill a particular physical or physiological need. These may be for persons who are overweight, underweight, diabetic, allergic to certain foods or on a salt-free diet. A special food may fit needs of infants or children, also, explains the specialist at Texas A&M University.

New regulations require the manufacturer to support his claim that the food is intended for special dietary use. A list of the dietary properties that support the claim must be printed on the label, says Miss Springer.

Foods which are sold for special dietary use in reducing or maintaining body weight must be labeled "for calorie-restricted diets." In order to be labeled such, calories must be reduced at least 50 percent. The term "lower in calorie" may be used by manufacturers on the label. However, the declaration "low calorie" may be made only if the foods contain not more than 15 calories in a serving and not more than 30 calories in the average total daily consumption of the food.

The manufacturers of artificial sweetner and foods which contain artificial sweeteners have been required to state on the label that it is or contains an artificial sweetener and that it is non-nutritive. The label of an artificial sweetener must also state the amount of artificial sweetener in a specified serving (tablet, capsule, teaspoonful) and a description of its sweetening effect in comparison to a quantity of sugar.

Foods for diabetics must be labeled: "For the diets of diabetics." The manufacturer is required to state on the label the protein, fat, carbohydrate and caloric content in 100 grams of such food.

These new regulations also require the manufacturer to provide information if non-nutritive ingredients have been added. Sometimes cellulose and other bulk which have no nutritional value are added to foods.

Presidential Race Quickens In State As Nov. 5 Nears

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN

Presidential Campaign 1968 is starting to roll full speed in Texas.

Democrat Hubert Humphrey's official state organization — a political patchwork of two committees representing varying factions —was formed just six weeks before the November 5 election.

Former State Democratic Chairman Will Davis of Austin and Congressman Jim Wright of Fort Worth head Texas Democrats for Humphrey - Muskie. Cecil Burney of Corpus Christi is executive director and National Democratic Committeeman Robert Strauss of Dallas is finance chairman.

At its initial meeting in Fort Worth, the group, made up predominantly of Gov. John Connally's and President Johnson's friends, declared the election is yet to be won, and Humphrey has a chance of carrying the state.

U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, leader of Texas liberals, heads a separate Texas Citizens for Humphrey-Muskie, and has formed a 137-member executive committee which met here Monday. Yarborough will work with traditional Democrats, ethnic minorities, independents, Republicans and "former supporters of Sen. Eugene McCarthy, Sen. George McGovern, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy."

Republican candidate Richard Nixon and American Party candidate George Wallace have had the benefit of months of spadework on behalf of their election efforts.

A recent Texas poll calculated Nixon and Humphrey are running close together (with about a third of the state's votes each) and Wallace is third with a fourth of the votes. Nixon was seen as having 'the best potential for carrying the state." Most observers regarded that as an understatement as of now, although Humphrey's campaign could change the picture dramatically during the next five weeks.

Opinions vary widely as to Wallace's effect on the outcome of the hard-fought state contest. Democrats claim presence of the former Alabama governor on the ballot is hurting Nixon most. Wallace campaign leaders say they are cutting more deeply into traditional Democratic votes that normally would go to Humphrey. Nixon's Texas campaign director, John Hurd of Laredo, sizes up the Wallace candidacy as having "equal impact" on Nixon and Humphrey.

Both the GOP and organized labor (backing Humphrey) are mounting special campaigns aimed at winning back from Wallace votes for Nixon and Humphrey. Success of these efforts might spell the difference on Nov. 5.

UNIVERSITY OF THE NORTH

Staff of the higher - education Coordinating Board has recommended a "multi-campus urban university" for the Dallas-Fort Worth-Denton area to include, at first, North Texas State University, Texas Woman's University and the University of Texas at Arlington.

These schools would be put under a new board of regents for the area and would be joined in a system later by other state - supported colleges and schools to form a university system designed specifically for the area.

Board itself will hold a hearing on the proposal Oct. 11, along with UT's own plan for uniting some of its institutions in the area.

HOMESTEAD CHANGE URGED

Constitutional Revision Commission has suggested tightening the homestead debt exemptions following a member's charge that the present basis state law provides a "haven for swindlers."

In its semi-final meeting, the panel agreed to a ceiling on a homestead exemption from foreclosure for debt should be limited to $25,000. Present constitution provides exemption for rural homesteads of up to 200 acres and urban homesteads (of any value) on lots of up to $5,000 maximum valuation.

PARK BONDS SOLD

First $5.75 million of a $75 million parks improvement bond issue has been sold at favorable interest rate.

Lehman Brothers and Associates of New York headed an investment syndicate which submitted 3.5846 percent net interest rate bid, lowest of 16. American National Bank of Austin was selected paying agent for the bonds.

Initial developments are expected to be a 120-mile range of the state's 10 largest population centers. A $1 per car entrance fee at 30 existing parks and 50 cent per car charge at six others will pay off the bonds.

JUNIOR COLLEGE PLANS

Texas' 40 public junior colleges have been given a new and expanded role in the state's educational processes, and now they're going back to the state for help in paying for it.

Long-range master plan of the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, says junior colleges should concentrate on (1) preparing some students for transfer to senior colleges and universities for their last two years, (2) setting up badly needed technical and vocational programs and (3) continuing education and cultural and public service programs.

Now, junior colleges get state aid in two forms, a line item appropriation for each school for direct academic instructional costs ($26,530,325 this year) plus another $6,476,000 distributed by the Texas Education Agency for technical - vocational programs.

For the two-year period beginning Sept. 1, 1969, the junior colleges are asking a strong increase in the first figure — $35,490,803 in 1970 and $37,577,190 for 1971—and a change, along with an increase, in the second.

They want their vocational -technical money allocated fva a line item — the same as the academic figure is computed— and increased to $15,025,375 for fiscal 1970 and $18,292,142 for 1971.

ANTI—POLLUTION EXEMPTION

Houston Rep. Rex Braun plans a one-man campaign against proposed Constitutional Amendment No. 6, to be voted on Nov. 5, to exempt from all property taxes pollution control equipment installed by industry.

Braun says the state shouldn't subsidize the pollution law breakers and, besides, other states have found that the exemption only costs money and does not encourage the installation of anti-pollution equipment.

Fluid is diverted to two jet nozzles at each light lens. (Outer lights only on duals.)

The spray removes up to 80% of accumulated dirt.

The feature is standard on 1969 Corvettes. It comes with the hidden headlights available on Camaro, Caprice and Kingswood Estate Wagons. It is available on all other models except Corvair.

Heated glass

In a moment your rear window will self-defrost.

Because we've built onto it a network of tiny ceramic strips capable of heating the entire surface.

Fog and frost disappear quickly and quietly. You just flick a switch.

The heated rear window is available on the 1969 Caprice Coupe and Impala Custom Coupe.

Pushbutton tire chains

You press a button on the instrument panel and the rear tires get a shot of "liquid tire chain."

You spin your wheels once, wait a moment, and you're off—with traction you wouldn't believe possible on slick ice, or packed snow.

Available on all 1969 big Chevrolets.

Steering wheel lock

When you own a car as desirable as the 1969 Chevrolet, you don't take chances.

When you leave it, you lock it.

Not just the doors.

You lock the ignition, steering wheel and transmission lever, too.

Our new lock on the steering column takes care of all that.

Standard on all 1969 Chevrolets, Chevelles, Chevy Novas, Camaros and Corvettes.

Sorry, car thieves.

Power steering plus

The 1969 Caprice, Impala and Camaro are available with a new type of power steering.

Variable-ratio power steering.

What it does is give you faster steering with fewer turns of the wheel.

Variable-ratio power steering is particularly helpful in short, full turns.

And parking becomes unbelievably easy. You'll see.

Walk-in wagons

The tailgate swings open like a door on most of our 1969 station wagons.

Which in itself is no big deal.

But wait, there's more.

We've built a concealed step into the rear bumper.

You simply step up, over, and in.

(The way we build our wagons, you can do it without bumping your head, and without acrobatics.)

Walk into a wagon soon at your Chevrolet dealer's.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By Vern Sanford

Duck hunting in Texas as a favorite sport of the outdoorsmen has been in the process of evolution during the past few years.

It wasn't too long ago when the waterfowl hunter headed to a nearby lake or river or to the Gulf of Mexico for his pleasure. But times have changed.

Several factors have contributed to this change. One is an ever-expanding complex of farm ponds and stock tanks. Ten years ago water supply was dictated by available rivers and lakes. But not anymore. More and more tanks are popping up on the landscape every day, offering spots for ducks to alight and feed. True, there are fewer ducks today but also they are spread thinner over more waters.

This decrease in duck population also has contributed to the change in duck hunting. At one time the daily limit dwindled to two. This made an elaborate trip not worthwhile. There just wasn't much incentive to get up before dawn, head for a duck blind which had required hours to construct, sit patiently in the dismal cold and wait for ducks to hit the scene. One flock could come winging in and —kaploie— your limit was filled. All that preparation for one flurry of action?

At the same time there was a drastic reduction in the number of canvasbacks and redheads, the most predominate species on the Texas coast. A coastal trip just wasn't worth it, not when you couldn't shoot cans or redheads anway Emphasis was off the diver ducks, like cans and redheads, and was put on puddler ducks, species like the mallard, teal and gadwall.

Yes, duck hunting has changed. But that doesn't mean it isn't sporty anymore. There's a new kind of duck hunting available today that you can enjoy at a fraction of the cost and with little preparation, yet you can still kill just as many ducks.

This "plain vanilla" duck hunting is done on stock tanks. Basically, there are two ways you can go about it. One is conventional duck hunting, with decoys. The other is stalking ducks and jump-shooting them. Both have their merits.

The former is for the hunter who enjoys seeing a flock of ducks coming in to a stool of imitations, watching them circle warily and then finally lock their wings and drop in unsuspectingly.

Since puddler ducks, like mallards, teal and gadwalls, habitually travel and feed in small bunches, you won't need many decoys. A dozen is more than sufficient.

Just place your decoys about five yards out from shore and space them widely. A tight-knit bunch of decoys indicates to wary ducks overhead that it is an uneasy, unsettled gathering.

Ducks, when they first alight, tend to remain tightly bunched, until they've had time to look things over. Later they'll disperse to feed. Present an overall picture of serenity, one of ducks feeding This will bring others unsuspectingly into the ambush.

Just remember to put out fresh decoys each trip. Don't make the mistake of leaving them in the water indefinitely. When ducks visit a pond in the afternoon, they will detect that their "brethern" are fakes and they'll have little appeal later.

Put the decoys out early, around daybreak, before the first contingent arrives (legal shooting time is sunrise). No call is necessary. When ducks fly over and see the decoys, they're going to come on in. That is, if you're hidden effectively and if they see nothing that makes them suspicious.

Stalk shooting can be accomplished throughout the day. A windy day is best, one when ducks have been driven off the more open waters and onto the protected tanks.

Park your vehicle far enough away so you won't alarm the ducks Then walk quietly to the pond. Best have at least two or three hunters in the party since one fast salvo of shooting is usually all you can expect.

An earthern levee affords a spot where you can creep close without revealing your presence.

When all hunters get ready, jump up and start bombarding. Needless to say, the ducks kick off the water and speed away toward a quieter place quickly and with amazing suddeness. Seldom will they return immediately.

There will be just enough time as they lift frantically off the water to get in two or three licks with your favorite scattergun, if you hurry.

This kind of duck hunting may lack the glamour of old methods. But it's just as effective. And in this day and time, the outdoorsman must learn to make do with what he's got. Try duck hunting once and you'll admit it's fun.

FTC Cracks Down On Unsolicited Mail

The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) is taking a tougher stand on mailers who try to collect for or recover merchandise sent to persons who did not request it, reports Extension Specialist Wanda Meyer.

Reacting to growing consumer annoyance with the practice, the FTC has issued a ruling which can set a pattern for future cases. Bills, invoices, reminders, letters or notices must state "clearly and conspicuously" that:

1. Merchandise is being sent unsolicited.
2. Recipient is under no obligation to return merchandise or even to preserve it.
3. Recipient is required to pay for merchandise only if he decides to purchase it.

Mrs. Meyer, with Texas A&M University, says the FTC had found that the company's communications had been designed to create the impression, "in varying degrees of bluntness" that the recipients must pay for it, return it or "suffer legal consequences."
